

HALF MOON BAY LIBRARY

Temporary Location

The San Mateo County Libraries are thrilled to announce that the Half Moon Bay Library will soon be "Open for Exploration" in a new facility.

June 12 is the last day patrons can visit the current location before it closes in anticipation of construction of the site's new library. Library lovers: never fear! Bookmobile Service will be offered at Shoreline Station between June 21 and July 1 as the library is moved. A temporary library will open at Shoreline Station on Tuesday, July 5 and will be open 7 days a week.

The new library will be a modern, inviting, and engaging facility, designed with the needs of today's digital community in mind. More than a book depository, today's libraries have a wider focus, including community gatherings, events and activities, internet connections, multipurpose areas, and literacy sections.

The new Half Moon Bay Library will be all that and more and is planned to open in 2018.
