

Celebrate National Poetry Month With San Mateo County Libraries

Dear Community,

April is a time to express our passion for poetry. San Mateo County Poet Laureate Aileen Cassinetto shared her love of Shel Silverstein, Maya Angelou and poems about ecology, nature, and "small acts of love" in a recent Q&A. You can share your love of poetry with us during National Poetry Month, too!

Not sure where to start? Listen to poems and ask questions with local poets during our poetry reading parties on Wednesday, April 7 and Monday, April 12. Then, explore the tradition of haiku during our online haiku writing workshops on Friday, April 16 and Tuesday, April 20. Got kids? Join our poetry-themed storytime on Friday, April 16!

Community Picks

Our Community Picks' titles are available digitally through online resources or in print through Curbside Services.

Children's Fiction: Hug Machine by Scott Campbell

I've been a big fan of Scott Campbell's charming illustrations and goofy sense of humor, so Hug Machine really speaks to me. Get ready for some giggles, silly antics, and major HUGGING!

Debbie, Millbrae Library

Children's Fiction: Show Me a Sign by Ann Clare LeZotte

Show Me a Sign follows young Mary Lambert, a deaf resident of Martha's Vineyard in 1805. When a cunning young scientist arrives hoping to discover the origin of the island's prevalent deafness, his maniacal drive to find answers brings Mary into his orbit. Written by a deaf author and based on the true story of the historic community on Martha's Vineyard.

Jessica, Pacifica Sanchez Library

Young Adult Fiction: Swing by Kwame Alexander With Mary Rand Hess

Written in the form of poetry, this novel follows Noah and his best friend Walt in their quest for love and baseball stardom. This story will have you laughing, bring you hope for a happy ending, and then leave you crying at the end. Content warning: contains depictions of police violence.

Alice, Portola Valley Library and Woodside Library

Adult Fiction: Heroine Complex Series by Sarah Kuhn

A hilarious, tongue-in-cheek superhero story for adults taking place in San Francisco! I love the world-building and characters like our two female Asian-American superhero leads who must juggle demon invasions as with their changing friendship. eAudiobooks available on Hoopla.

Jenna, Foster City Library

Movie Streaming: Lean on Pete

As 15-year-old Charley's home life deteriorates, he finds purpose and friendship at a local racetrack. When his racehorse is destined for slaughter, Charley takes matters into his own hands. Just a heads up: this slow-burn, coming-of-age story isn't a Disney style feel-good horse movie. Available on Kanopy.
